

ACE VENTURES:

Ace Ventures is a Marketing & Project Consultancy firm, servicing film production companies, individual producers, distributors, movie aggregations and syndications. We work closely as a bridge in collaboration with producers & broadcasters by providing solutions and managing due diligence at the time of acquisitions of films rights, licensing, IPR, copyright strikes etc. Our clients include Broadcasters, Producers and Distributors.

With almost 25 years of rich experience in the media and entertainment industry, we work closely in four different media vertical; Production, Distribution, Movie Aggregation & Syndication.

We also provide wide advisory services to film projects & new digital media content like digital web series projects etc. Our film marketing and distribution division does an extensive research on the unique selling proposition of the film, understanding the target audience and then plan reaching out to the audience in a cost effective manner.

We work closely with most of the well known film production & distribution companies, film studios, producers, distributors, directors and creative teams to make a successful project. We also offer a wide array of consultancy solutions to films and television series at all stages. From helping producers sell their completed projects, both domestically and internationally, to assisting investors understand opportunities, to working with creative's to transform their scripts and ideas into market-ready packages which then can move into production. We offer client specific services ranging from submissions to Executive Producers and even Lead Producer engagements.

Over the years, we have successfully executed various client assignments and stayed ahead of the curve in the Media & Entertainment domain. We believe in maintaining long-standing relationships with our clients and ensure that companies find a perfect link with the right talent at the right time.
